Technical Competencies

Law Offices of Tracy P. Jong is an intellectual property law firm serving clients all across the United States. We provide services to start-ups, small companies, scientists, doctors, and entrepreneurial individuals. Our office also serves as a US associate for foreign law firms seeking to file the US counterpart to foreign patent applications.

Our services include: patent searching, patent preparation, patent prosecution, patent licensing, foreign patent filings, trademark registration, trademark searching, trademark prosecution, trademark licensing, copyright registration, intellectual property contracts and agreements, and business formation for new start-ups. Engineering Services can also be provided on an as-needed basis during patent preparation and prosecution. Technical Drawing Services can be provided on an as-needed basis during product development, patent preparation and patent prosecution.

Our legal, industrial and technical background enables us to work with engineers, entrepreneurs, doctors, and inventors on any technology from the simplest to the most complex. We can speak with inventors, doctors, scientists, and engineers in their own language, putting them at ease, saving time and avoiding key information being "lost in translation" to non-technical professionals.

We combine the service and efficiency of a small firm with the resources of a much larger firm to offer legal representation that meets the needs and demands of our clients. We have strategic relationships with engineering and scientific consultants (and foreign attorneys) to meet any needs we don't have "in-house." Examples of our in-house technical experience include:
